

UKIP: 'We'll work with anyone to form coalition'

WITH UKIP gaining seats in Southend a cross party alliance may have to come into action to run the administration.

James Moyies, group leader for UKIP in Southend, said his party would work with 'anyone' to form a coalition.

"People are voting for us because we tell the truth," he said. "The other parties say what people want to hear, rather than what they actually go on to do. We will work with anyone in the best interests of the borough."

Mr Moyies said if his party take control of the council they will make it their priority to return the council to a committee based decision making authority.

"Cabinets are not democratic," he said. Another priority would be insisting that all grammar schools in Southend take the majority of their intake locally.

Martin Terry, leader of the Independent Party said the UKIP votes reflects people's concerns that the other large parties have not been listening to the electorate.

He said: "The larger parties dismissed UKIP and it has back fired on them.

"I don't think the people that voted for UKIP are racist, I think they have general concerns about people coming over our borders with no means.

"The housing list in Southend is already very long and it is about space if more and more people come in we just won't be able to deal with it.

"As a councillor I know we have to set budgets and set resources if more people come into the town we are not going to have the resources.

"It really is an economic argument and about space. I was really disappointed with the way the big parties handled themselves."

Mr Terry now believes that an alliance of parties will change the landscape of the council.

He said: "There will have to be an alliance because the Tories don't have enough seats to run the administration.

"They have said they will work with some of the Independents.

"I think it will be better for the town and that is the main aim making sure things are okay for the electorate."

CHEERS: Nigel Farage celebrates the party's success in Essex during a tour of the county on Friday

Picture by Martin Dalton

Ex Tory council leader Nigel Holdcroft said he believed an alliance would be set up within the next week. He said: "I think the UKIP votes were quite predictable when you look at the national swing of things."

"I think the votes have been made because people are concerned about immigration and Europe.

"I basically think that the UKIP success is down to people wanting to show a vote against Westminster and go against the main political parties."

"The Tories don't have the majority any more so it will be interesting in the next few weeks to see what happens

New uniforms for nurses

NURSES have been given new uniforms at Fair Havens Hospice thanks to a donation from the daughter of a patient they cared for.

Guilda Brett, from Southend, who herself was a nurse at Fair Havens in 1987 donated cash from her father's funeral and a coffee morning she held.

Guilda retired in 2012 from the Hospice as her mother was in poor health.

The 66 year old's mother died on Christmas Eve that year and shortly after the funeral her father, Ron Riley, fell ill.

In April 2013, he was diagnosed with suspected cancer of the oesophagus and Guilda called the Fair Havens Macmillan nurses.

Guilda said: "I knew I needed their help. I spoke to them on the phone and they quickly came to assess him.

"It took a while to get all of the equipment Dad needed, a hospital bed, hoist, commode, hand and support rails - there was so much.

"We got him some special cushion ions for his armchair too, he loved that chair. Until the day he died, he got up and sat there.

"Nurses from Fair Havens hospice at home came every day to visit Ron to do his personal care, provide respite during the day and night as they needed it and to manage his increasing pain.

"They were brilliant and they would have come more if we'd needed them to.

"They cared for all of us equally, they delivered the whole package.

"They completely wrapped us up in their love and support."

Lorraine Tullett, service manager for Fair Havens Hospice at Home is hoping that the new uniforms and unique challenge of caring for patients at the end of their life, in their own home, will appeal to qualified nurses and carers looking to join a new team.

Carers and nurses interested in the current vacancies with Fair Havens Hospice at Home can find out more at www.havenshospices.org.uk or by calling the HR team on 01702 556645.

Beaches scoop top seaside award

SOUTHEND'S beaches have been awarded a prestigious Keep Britain Tidy 'seaside award'.

It recognises beaches in England that achieve the highest standards of beach management and bathing waters reaching the mandatory water quality.

Lynn Jones, the council's resort service manager, said the authority was delighted to have picked up seven seaside awards that reflected the quality, management, cleanliness and safety of the beaches.

She said: "All of our bathing waters reach mandatory level and some are moving towards the excellent category.

"Our hard work with partners like the Environment Agency and Anglian Water will help further improve the bathing water quality in the future.

"We are proud of our beaches and know how important they are to our tourism, so it is vital that they are safe, clean and with good bathing water quality."

Richard McIlwain, programme director, for the charity Keep Britain Tidy, which is responsible for the award said the organisation knew good beaches were an important factor for visitors and day trippers to decide where to go.

He said: "The continuing quality of management at these beaches is a real testament to the dedication, hard work and investment that local authorities and other beach managers put in year after year.

"The sight of the Blue Flag or Seaside Award flying gives visitors the reassurance that they'll have great time."

Keep your eye on the ball

"Essex Action" as heard on Southend Radio, produced in conjunction with the Volunteer Centre Southend (SAVS)

A local family centre in Westcliff is looking for people who love to be busy.

The centre runs clubs for both youngsters and vulnerable adults and they need volunteers to help with tasks such as homework, arts and crafts and sporting activities.

Enthusiasm and bucket loads of energy are the only qualifications required as the youngsters are sometimes a bit boisterous after a day cooped up in class!

So if you would like to help out in your local community or perhaps gain some experience in this area of work, then please call Emily on 01702 356000.

ABSEIL: Consultant surgeons, Mike Dworkin and James Wright abseiling down the tower.

Daredevils go over the top for hospital

MORE than 70 people tackled the 154ft tower at Southend Hospital to raise money to donate to the hospital.

Doctors, nurses, and former patients made their way down the ten storey structure on Saturday in the hope of raising £10,000.

Lucy Thomas-Clayton, associate director of community engagement, kicked the event off by being the first one to go over the top.

She said: This has to be our most exhilarating event to date.

"I would like to say a big thank you to all those brave participants who conquered their fears and raised vital funds for Southend Hospital Charity."

A handful of consultant surgeons in full scrubs also took part in the charity challenge to support the new keyhole cancer appeal.

James Wright, consultant colorectal surgeon said: "I definitely felt better after the abseil than before it that's for sure.

"I was relieved when my feet touched the ground, going over the top was nail biting stuff."

Art students put on end

STUDENTS at the University of Essex in Southend have been celebrating their end of year show.

A total of 34 students in their first and second years have been displaying their work.

The conceptual exhibition called At.el.ier has a range of work from paintings to installations.

Becky Walker, from Westcliff, who is in her second year at the university said the exhibition had been great collaboration between students. She said: "The exhibition has been really strong this year."

"All of the students have put a lot of work into it and it's just a great space."

"I think the second year has been the best year to work on the development side of my work."

"Next year in the final year there's everything to play for."

Kelly Storkey, 25, from Chelmsford, who is in her first year at the university said she had enjoyed using the studio space to exhibit her work.

She said: "We have used the space where we have been working all year."

"So it's nice and feels familiar we have made it into something of our own though."

"All of the students and teachers have really bonded over this exhibition."

OPEN: Dorothy Turner has opened her garden to raise money for animal charities

How does your garden grow?

A KEEN gardener is inviting people to come and take a tour of her garden to raise money for animal charities.

Dorothy Good, has been opening her garden to members of the public for more than 20 years to help raise funds for animal charities.

Her garden Little Foxes, at 9 Marcus Gardens, in Thorpe

Bay, will be open on Saturday, May 31, and Sunday, June 1, for people to view.

Dorothy, who will also be offering tea and cakes on both days said the garden is in full bloom at the moment.

She said: "People can expect to see rhododendrons, various perennials and a variety of gorgeous poppies alongside alliums.

"Visitors can also buy plants that I have grown from seed and have a cup of tea and piece of cake that my friend from the Womens Institute has kindly made." Entrance to the garden is £3 and it is open between 2pm and 5pm.

All proceeds go towards local animal charities.

Joyce donates funds to Basildon Women's Aid

A DEDICATED fundraiser has donated £1,500 to Basildon Women's Aid.

Joyce Long, 85, of Park Road, Thundersley, has raised more than £1.5million for charity, mostly donated to Southend Hospital.

However, she decided to split the proceeds of her latest charity sale between the hospital and the Basildon charity, which helps women who have suffered domestic abuse.

She explained: "Someone I knew needed some help and they were greatly supportive. They said funds were very low, so I thought I would help them as a one-off thing."

Women's Aid manager Elaine Arnold said the organisation felt lucky and grateful that Joyce had chosen to give them a donation.

She said: "The generous donation from Joyce will enable us to arrange trips and extra activities for the children to help them deal with their confusing emotions regarding domestic abuse."

Opinion and readers' letters

UKIP's success is a protest vote

IT is apparent to me that UKIP's success is a protest vote by the many who are concerned with the continuing denigration of our once proud nation.

For more than 40 years the majority, referred to by Cameron as the hard working taxpayers, have suffered growing inequality, even during the pseudo socialist Blair years. The media frantically attacks Miliband and also, we are told, by his own MPs - probably Blairites.

I suspect we can look only to Miliband to reintroduce socialism and stop the constant inequality, whereby the rich get richer and the poor get poorer, and further loss of our industries to foreign powers.

Les Harrington
Benfleet

Thank you for your votes

PLEASE can you convey my gratitude to the voters of Milton Ward who honoured me with their endorsement, through the polls, during the local council elections on May 22.

Whether you voted for me, or for others, you are welcome to contact me, or other Milton councillors, to work with us, to bring about the necessary changes to your environment.

I wish also to thank the other candidates who fought a clean campaign and Milton's retiring Councillor Maria Caunce, who gave four years of service to the town.

As I said in my election night speech I am overwhelmed by your support and hope to continue our doorstep relationship, in an attempt to bring about local improvements to Milton Ward.

Cheryl Nevin
Councillor for Milton Ward
Leigh

Become a Dementia Friend

THE new national promotion is totally worthwhile and encourages the understanding and support for those with dementia at all levels. It does not ask for money, but to educate friends and family in the ways of supporting those who live with this issue at either an early stage or a deeper more progressed stage. The removal of mystery is an excellent ideal and the video supplied online is a few minutes of practical and high level knowledge accompanied by a small information booklet sent once you have decided to register as a 'Dementia Friend'. The St Laurence Conservatives have no doubt that this scheme will help and it hopes to have one of its members trained as a Dementia Champion.

Votes are always humbling

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the residents of West Shoebury. To thank the 2,675 residents who turned out to vote on Thursday, and in particular to thank the 355 people who voted for me. It is always humbling when anyone shows such faith in you as to make you the recipient of your vote, and so I feel especially privileged that 355 residents have done so.

Though I'm never sure whether it is appropriate to admit it, I have enjoyed the campaign. I have been lucky enough to be supported by a number of capable, dedicated and enthusiastic local Labour Party members, and though I did not get the opportunity to speak to as many voters as I would have liked, those I did speak to were switched on, aware and interested in what I had to say.

I would also like to thank my opponents, Tony Cox, James Moyes, and Charlie Row. It has been a battle of radically different views for the future of West Shoebury and Southend, but I am assured that they were as committed to what they perceived were the best interests of the ward as I was. James, in particular, I wish the best of luck and wisdom as he sets out as West Shoebury new councillor.

Although I was not successful in winning the contest, I still believe passionately in the area, and that Labour policy could help it achieve the greatness that we all know it is capable of. I will still campaign for fairness and prosperity across Southend, and look forward to the challenges that the future will bring.

Matthew S. Dent
Southend

Elections were faceless

RECENT elections have left most without any feelings, average turn out well below 35 per cent and the European elections were faceless and bland, despite the obvious contentious issue of in or out!

The local elections deserved a more receptive audience with candidates in most seats knocking on doors and regularly leafleting their wards. I would say there was a real human touch missing from European elections which took its frustration out upon local affairs and skewed local results with European politics contaminating our civic life.

The wonderful irony is that European funding plays such an important part in project funding to local authorities but until the referendum don't expect the current turbulence to cease.

Cllr Mark Flewitt
Leigh

Things have now got interesting

SOME say UKIP's performance at the elections was far from the 'political earthquake' as promised by Farage, but it shapes things up nicely for next year.

Whether UKIP can carry its performance through to a general election is yet to be seen, but surely it's a massive wake up call to the so called 'big three' parties.

Before now, many of UKIP's votes did not translate into seats, so the 'big three' saw them as empty threats. Now their votes are turning into seats (and taking seats from all the 'big three' parties) the will have to wake up to the national mood.

Hopefully it will force the Tories, Labour and Lib Dems to adapt their policies to what the public want otherwise they could suffer greatly next year. Am protest vote or not, UKIP is definitely in the driving seat and has forced the hand of the 'big three'. Over to you Dave, Ed and Nick.

P Smith

Parties left licking their wounds

ESSEX put up a good show as did UKIP and has left the three main parties licking their wounds, maybe that will teach them to ignore the people at their peril.

London of course returned Labour but this was to be expected as during their 13 years in office they have imported roughly 4 million votes most of which owe their allegiants to Labour

TODAY!

THE TOWNGATE Theatre will be holding writing courses for budding writers to improve their skills.

The courses for beginners and intermediate will run for four weeks and will be overseen by Paul Giles, who is a YA journalist, published poet, feature and magazine writer.

Paul also holds a BA honours degree in creative writing from the London Metropolitan University.

The 33-year-old explained the courses are ideal for people with interest in writing or for complete beginners, with the intermediate courses being in place for people who have already written a body of work.

He said: "The courses cover a wide variety of skills to enhance peoples writing."

"The beginner courses are ideal for people who want to brush up on their writing skills, whereas in the intermediate course, people will learn how to edit down their work and polish their style.

"There has already been a lot of interest so I would advise people to book as soon as they can."

Tools pupils will learn include mastering the five point plan of story plot lines, building character, sourcing good research material, character development, improving dialogue and much more.

Classes for beginners will start from Wednesday, June 4, and intermediate classes will start on Wednesday, July 9, both courses run between 7pm and 9pm at the Towngate Theatre.

Courses are £60 each and can be booked online by visiting www.towngatetheatre.co.uk or by calling the box office on 01268 465465.

For a further outline of the course call Paul Giles on 07830 751662.

WRITING COURSE: Paul Giles will be heading up two writing courses at the Towngate Theatre from next month

COUNTDOWN TO

WELL I NEVER!

- FIFA has scrapped World Cup speeches to avoid protests
- France demanded two types of soap in every hotel room
- Germany have had their own World Cup hotel and training camp built
- A Simpsons episode has been dedicated to the tournament
- The first kick of the World Cup will be made by a paraplegic teenager in a mind-controlled exoskeleton suit. The teenager is paralysed from the waist down, but will 'feel' the kick due to sensory feedback.
- Referees will be allowed to stop matches two or three times due to weather conditions, especially where the heat can become very intense. Players will then be allowed to rehydrate.
- The winning team will get $35million.
- FIFA has banned players from showing messages under their shirts. There are no Scandinavian teams in this year's tournament.
- In order to ensure the safety of the many people who will visit Brazil and see the matches, Israeli drones will be utilized. These unmanned aircraft will monitor the crowds for defense and security purposes. So called PackBot 510 robots, which are used in the US military, will also be utilized to protect the citizens and tourists.

Essex Showers can make dreams reality

A WARM attractive bathroom not only adds comfort to your home, but value. Essex Showers has more than 20 years' experience in creating individually designed dream bathrooms at affordable prices.

With more than 5,000 installations for satisfied customers across the county, the company's reputation has spread far and wide.

The company was formed in 1982, when Malcolm and Lee Pitt decided the time had come to make use of their 26 years' combined experience at a national bathroom company. Their continued success is due to high-quality bathrooms at value-for-money prices, and a full expert installation service. The company installs only top brand name bathroom suites from companies such as Armitage Shanks, Ideal Standard and Twyfords.

A representative can arrange for a no-obligation home visit to offer expert guidance and advice on how to transform your bathroom into a real bathing beauty. Essex Showers offer a comprehensive top-quality service, covering every aspect of installation.

For further advice or to arrange for a free quote, call Malcolm or Lee at Essex Showers on 0800 212350.

B&S Worktop Supplies can help you get your dream suite

WHETHER you want a complete new kitchen or bedroom, or want to save money by changing the look of your existing units or wardrobes, then B&S Worktop Supplies can help.

The long established company, which has 30 years experience in the business, knows just how important it is to find the best kitchen or bedroom suite for your home. But it's not just the style that's important, it's the whole layout and design as every bedroom or kitchen needs maximum storage options.

At B&S Worktop Supplies they have extensive experience in designing and creating bespoke kitchens and bedrooms in their very own factory, as well as quality office furniture - whether you have a room at home in which you work from, or have a complete office to furnish.

The family run company also knows that some people who want to transform their home may be on a smaller budget, so they offer a replacement kitchen and bedroom door service. The option of replacing doors instead of entire units can save you a large amount of money, without compromising on look. With door finishes including vinyl textured or glossed, acrylic and solid wood to choose from, in a variety of colours and shades, you really can achieve a new look in your kitchen or bedroom. What's more, as the company has its own factory, any size doors are available so you won't have trouble finding something to fit.

worktops are also available, in Duropal and Omega laminate, or solid wood, quartz or granite, which will complete your new look.

Whatever your needs you can choose to take the products away with you or opt for the company's outstanding fitting service.

For further information about B&S Worktops, call into their showroom at Unit 5, Roachview Business Park, Millhead Way, Purdeys Industrial Estate, Rochford, visit www.bsworktops.co.uk or call 01702 547777.

DIRECT from London's West End, Europe's biggest burlesque show is coming to Queen's Theatre, Hornchurch, on Friday, July 4.

We have teamed up with the producers of the superb An Evening of Burlesque to give away two pairs of tickets to see the world's original touring burlesque spectacular which is now entering its fourth fabulous year.

Officially Britain's biggest burlesque extravaganza – a quarter of a million people have now seen the show – An Evening of Burlesque exposes the cream of the West End of London's thriving burlesque scene to the world.

Featuring corsets, killer heels and stockings aplenty, it sparkles from its elaborately-decorated headdresses to its immaculately varnished toes.

A combination of sultry vocals, breathtaking choreography, mischief, magic, frivolity and fun, the show combines musical and theatrical parody, cutting-edge variety, magic, comedy and dance with the art of striptease.

For over-18s only, An Evening of Burlesque is the slickest, wickedly wittiest, most delightfully choreographed cabaret spectacular of the year, so dress up and join the cabaret.

For further information and tickets for the show, which starts at 7.30pm, call the Queen's Theatre Box Office on 01708 443333 or visit www.queens-theatre.co.uk or www.easystreasures.com

To win tickets to this amazing show just answer the following question.

Q: In which French city is the Moulin Rouge to be found?

A: Paris
B: Bordeaux
C: Lille

To enter the competition telephone your answer - A, B or C - to 0901 307 1670 along with your name, address, telephone number and email.

Alternatively text YACABARET (space) followed by A, B or C, and your name, full address and email to 63333.

Calls cost 51p from a BT landline. Calls from other networks may vary and from mobiles will cost considerably more. Texts cost 50p plus your standard network rates. If you do not wish to receive details on any other products or services, please text EXIT at the end of your message.

Lines close on Thursday, June 5, 2014. Entries received after the closing date will not be counted but may still be charged.

Service Provider: JMedia UK Limited, SW4 7BX. Tel: 0844 800 1188.

T&amp;Cs

The prizes will go to the first entries drawn after the closing date.

Musical casts its spell

By LIZ WADE

A HEAVENLY new production of the divine smash hit musical, Gospel, is currently wowing audiences at the Queen's Theatre, Hornchurch.

The almighty celebration of friendship, loyalty and love - bursting with boundless energy and featuring a multi-talented ten-strong cast - opened to rave reviews on May 16 and will continue its run until June 7.

Members of cut to the chase..., the Queen's professional resident company of actor-musicians, including Ellie Rose Boswell, Patrick Burbridge, Georgina Field, Deborah Hewitt, Callum Hughes, Sam Kordbacheh, Megan Leigh Mason, Sean Needham, Sam Pay and Sarah Scowen, make up the cast for the production, which would be a sin to miss.

From John and Judas to prophets and parables, Director Matt Devitt's stylish urban-inspired production retells the timeless story of Jesus - as told in the Gospels - in a gloriously colourful way.

With music and new lyrics by Stephen Schwartz - the Grammy and Academy Award-winning composer of Wicked - Godspell's wonderfully uplifting soundtrack is jam-packed with soul-stirring pop, folk and rock hits such as Light of the World, Prepare Ye, Day by Day and many more. And for an added treat, all music is played live on stage by the brilliant cut to the chase... company.

In a bid to inject more joy and energy into church congregations, creator John-Michael Tebelak originally wrote Godspell as part of a project in the drama department of Pittsburgh's Carnegie Mellon University.

ADAM SANDLER as Jim and DREW BARRYMORE as Lauren

Mix and match*BLENDED (12A, 117 mins)

LIGHTNING doesn't strike thrice for Adam Sandler and Drew Barrymore in Blended.

In 1998, the two stars fell in love to a soundtrack of Nena, Culture Club and The Thompson Twins in The Wedding Singer. Six years later, they turned on the charm in 50 First Dates.

Now, Sandler and Barrymore try to kindle the same irresistible spark in Frank Coraci's romantic comedy of mismatched single parents.

Ivan Menchell and Clare Sera's script has a few nice moments of laughter and heart-warming sentiment including some surprisingly moving discussions between a father and his children about grief and remembrance.

Unfortunately, tenderness is offset by exaggerated physical comedy and cloying sentiment, which shamelessly manipulates our emotions to ensure every parent has tears glistening in their eyes as the end credits roll.

The two screenwriters struggle to interweave a surfeit of gooey subplots around the central romance and consequently only have enough screen time to embellish supporting characters with a single discernible trait: the daughter who hides her femininity behind a pudding bowl haircut; the son nurturing an unhealthy obsession with his babysitter; the genial resort host who continually mispronounces a Greek surname.

The majority of these gags barely walk, let alone run.

Lauren Reynolds (Drew Barrymore) is a single mother with two sons, 13-year-old Brendan (Braxton Beckham) and nine-year-old Tyler (Kyle Red Silverstein), who have been let down badly by her unreliable ex-husband (Joel McHale).

Single father Jim Friedman (Adam Sandler) lost his wife to cancer and is now primary care-giver to three daughters, 15-year-old Hilary (Bella Thorne), 12-year-old Espn (Emma Fuhrmann) and four-year-old Lou (Alyvia Alyn Lind).

Fate conspires to throw Lauren and Jim together on a disastrous blind date.

The parents vow never to see each other again and take their respective broods on a South African safari adventure.

As luck would have it, they are forced to share the same family-sized suite.

Battle lines are drawn between the dysfunctional Reynolds and Friedman clans but animosity mellows into unexpected attraction as Lauren and Jim realise they could be the missing pieces in each other's haphazard lives.

Blended is a terrible title for a rom-com.

Director Coraci, who helmed The Wedding Singer, is powerless to perform the same alchemy 16 years later and musical interludes courtesy of the African resort's singing host (Terry Crews) fall flat.

Sandler and Barrymore catalyse screen chemistry which feels more like sibling affection than simmering passion, and their couple's first kiss looks awkward.

Younger cast are more convincing in underwritten roles especially Bella Thorne, who transforms from tomboy into prom queen after a visit to the resort's spa in a scene reminiscent of the 1999 teen romance She's All That.

Alas, Blended isn't all that, not by a long shot.

Since opening off-Broadway in 1971, it has been performed in thousands of shows on Broadway and in the West End, becoming one of the most popular and enduring musicals in modern history.

■ Romford's Brookside Theatre will be rockin' and rollin' when one of Europe's favourite Elvis Presley tribute shows takes to the stage on Saturday, June 7.

Elvis – A Tribute to the King stars Paul Ritchie, a multi-award winning tribute artist who, as well as having the look, the voice and the moves of 'The King', he also has his passion.

Paul, who has countless television and film credits to his name, will be accompanied on stage by the incredible Memphis Flashback Band.

The spectacular stage show pays tribute to an incredible musical legend and captures the on stage excitement of Elvis' greatest performance by energetically reproducing hits spanning the 50's, 60's and Vegas-70's, from Heartbreak Hotel, Suspicious Minds, Hound Dog and All Shook Up, to Don't Be Cruel, It's Now or Never, Viva Las Vegas, and Jailhouse Rock.

Jai Sepple, theatre manager, said: "In just a short period of time, we have built up an exceptional reputation for presenting some of the finest tribute acts and these guys are definitely up there with the very best. Any fan of rock n roll won't want to miss this."

As with all productions at the theatre, the show will be staged to raise money for the renovation and upkeep of the Romford War Memorial.

■ Relive the years of the swinging 60s when the stars of Carnaby Street play at Basildon's Towngate Theatre, on Wednesday, June 25. This jam-packed show will feature more than 35 songs from an incredible era which brought Carnaby Street to life.

The brilliant C-Street Band will be joined by fabulous lead singers on the evening to perform an array of hits from some of the most famous bands of all time including The Beatles, The Who, The Rolling Stones, Dusty Springfield, The Kinks, Manfred Mann, The Animals, Spencer Davis Group, The Searchers and many more!

■ For further information and tickets for Godspell call the Queen's Theatre Box Office on 01708 443333 or book online at queens-theatre.co.uk, for Elvis – A Tribute to the King visit www.brookside-theatre.com or call 01708 755775, while for further information about Carnaby Street call the Towngate Theatre Box Office on 01268 465465 or visit www.towngate-theatre.co.uk

Towers of strength

GET a glimpse of medieval splendour at one of Britain's most romantic and picturesque castles.

Set in the heart of 1066 country in East Sussex, Bodiam Castle is a breathtaking sight to see, but don't be fooled by its exterior.

While the massive fortress, surrounded by a vast and impressive moat, looks just as it would have done when it was built in the 14th century, much of the inside has long gone. But despite the fact there are no grand halls to explore, Bodiam still offers a chance to delve into medieval splendour, test your head for heights on spiral staircases and peer through windows through which arrows were once fired.

Built by Sir Edward Dallingridge in 1385, shortly after the Peasants' Revolt and during the Hundred Years' War, Bodiam is one of the most beautiful and inspiring medieval castles left in Britain today. While earlier castles were built for their defence purposes, Bodiam was constructed to not only offer a stern fortress but to also provide a comfortable mansion.

While Sir Edward was given permission by King Richard II to fortify his existing mansion to defend the country and resist enemies, such as the French who had been attacking nearby ports, his castle was equally constructed as a status symbol and comfortable home.

Although much of Bodiam's interior was destroyed by parliamentarians during the English Civil War, there is still plenty to see amongst its ruins. Enough of the interior ruins survive to give an impression of what castle life would have been like and colourful characters, such as the miller's wife and forester, are on hand to share gruesome and surprising tales.

The vast expanse of ruins inside allow you to see what is left of Sir Edward's kitchens, its great hall and servants' quarters, the Lord's apartments and its quest rooms with fireplaces and even en-suite toilets.

Its exterior walls are so intact that there are complete areas of the castle to explore including its impressive gate - the castle's original wooden portcullis - which is an extremely rare example of its kind.

Take a look at the murder holes in the roof of the main gatehouse and the Postern Tower, through which soldiers would have dropped all kinds of horrible things onto those that dared attack them below.

If you have a head for heights then you can clamber up the spiral staircases of three of its towers, two of which are connected with a one way system, where you climb up one staircase and walk across an interconnecting wall before climbing to the heights of the second, admiring the views and coming down again.

The castle and its ruins are a great place to explore and an environment where children's imaginations can run riot, but if you would prefer to give the structure itself a miss then there is plenty of surrounding parkland to explore or enjoy a picnic.

Traces of tenants' plots, which would have once made up a thriving community around the castle, can be found around its grounds alongside traces of Sir Edward's impressive water features and the remains of a Second World War pillbox.

Taste award winning cuisine at the Taj Mahal

WITH outstanding cuisine and fantastic service it is easy to see how the Taj Mahal has become Leigh-on-Sea's oldest Indian restaurant.

The restaurant, at 77 Leigh Road, first opened its doors in 1973 and is still owned by the Uddin family and run by the owner's sons.

They are justifiably proud of their establishment which serves award-winning cuisine and go out of their way to ensure diners receive the best.

As well as continuing to impress customers, its dishes have also delighted a team of celebrity judges. During the 2010 Newby Teas Tiffin Cup Grand Final, held at the House of Commons, the restaurant was awarded with a record of achievement certificate after coming runner-up in the competition which was judged by the likes of chef Ainsley Harriott, comedian, writer and radio and television presenter, Hardeep Singh Kohli, and actress and television personality, Lisa Faulkner, who was crowned the winner of BBC's Celebrity Master Chef in 2010.

The restaurant's menu boasts a range of delicious cuisine, all of which is freshly cooked to order with a variety of special spices.

Its starters include everything from King Prawn Bhajee on Puri and Kepsi Fish to Dum se Kebab – minced meat mixed with onions, herbs and spices, wrapped in a crispy fried bread.

Diners are spoilt for choice with its vast range of main courses including fish dishes, old favourites such as a Chicken or Lamb Tikka Bhuna, and Tandoori, Biriani, Curry, Balti and vegetarian dishes. Alongside these there are also a variety of Persian dishes to choose from including Dansak Piri Piri and several Chef's Recommendations such as Jardaloo Chicken, Malai Mussala and Madhu Khatta – chargrilled chicken marinated with herbs and spices to give a combination of different flavours.

On Sundays its lunchtime and evening buffets provide fantastic value-for-money for all the family as you can eat as much as you like for just £7.95 for adult, with children under the age of 12 dining for just £4.95. What's more, the vast buffet has also been recently extended with more choice, which is ideal for vegetarians.

The Taj Mahal, which is open seven days a week, from noon to 2.30pm and from 6-11.30pm, also offers a full takeaway service with free local delivery.

For further information about the restaurant, which is fully licensed and air conditioned, call 01702 711006 or visit www.the-tajmahal.co.uk

'A Unique Dining Experience'

THE Maharaja promised us a unique dining experience and it achieved just that with mouth-watering food served in a beautiful setting that was fit for a King.

The award-winning restaurant, in London Road, Benfleet, is justly proud of its exotic royal cuisine, presented to diners through a vast menu packed with exquisite dishes and chef specialities.

After much deliberation we began our meal with two outstanding starters – Kakori Kebab alongside everyone's favourite Indian treat, Onion Bhaji. While the kebab of lamb tantalised the taste buds with an exotic blend of spices, the Maharaja added its own personal twist on the bhaji as the sliced onion and flour combination was mixed with its own blend of fresh herbs, sauce and light spices, before being fried in sunflower oil.

It was then back to the menu to pour over even more dishes and select two main courses to enjoy. It was almost an impossible choice as, along with many diner's favourites the restaurant has a vast range of specialities including lobster, King prawn, salmon, trout and exotic freshwater fish from the Indian Ocean, such as Tilapia, and a variety of exciting new dishes including ostrich, venison, duck, whole leg of lamb and whole chicken.

Wanting to enjoy a range of tastes I opted for the Tandoori Mixed Grill – a selection of Tandoori Chicken, Lamb Tikka, Chicken Tikka, Seekh Kebab – all cooked to perfection and served with naan bread, while my wife chose the King Prawn

'Food fit for a King'

Butterfly, a jumbo prawn, lightly spiced with fresh herbs before being deep fried in sunflower oil, with a side serving of vegetable rice.

If that was not enough to delight the taste buds, the Maharaja's chef specially prepared a dish of Lobster Piara for us, a welcome addition to an already vast array of colour, smells and tastes on our table.

Having already eaten like Kings I'm afraid we had no room for dessert, but if you do then there are a wide selection on offer, or you can sit back and relax with a tea or coffee, or an alcoholic drink from its well stocked bar.

The Maharaja is an Indian restaurant full of heritage which serves unique and exotic Royal Indian cuisine in a traditional setting that is, quite frankly, fit for a Maharaja.

The Ali family say they pride themselves on providing excellence in cuisine, service and ambience for each and every diner, and they definitely do just that as we were well and truly spoilt by their friendly staff from the moment we arrived to the moment we left. And it isn't just the front of house staff that are extremely accommodating, as the chef is also happy to please diners by creating their favourite dishes right down to their own personal requirements.

As well as its extensive a la carte menu, the restaurant offers so much more thanks to its buffet bar, DJ entertainment on Thursday, Fridays and Saturdays, and its dance floor from which you can see yourself on the big screen.

There's also a comfortable VIP Lounge area with a beautiful chandelier which you can book for everything from birthdays to anniversaries for a maximum of 12 people, and throughout the year the restaurant is the perfect place for a range of special occasions, including Father's Day. On Sunday, June 15, the restaurant will be serving a three-course buffet, plus a free bottle of Cobra beer for dads, so book now to avoid disappointment. What's more, Charity Nights like the one that was being held when we dined at the Maharaja, which packed its tables, are also very popular so if you have a good cause you need to raise money for then contact staff at the restaurant for more information.

The Maharaja, which has wheelchair access as well as parking on the front forecourt, is open from noon to 2.30pm, and from 5.30pm to 11.30pm, from Monday to Wednesday; from noon to 2.30pm, and from 5.30pm to midnight, from Thursday to Saturday; and from noon to 11pm on Sundays and Bank Holidays.

Traditional pub has it all

SET just a few hundred yards away from the River Rouch is a beautiful country pub that is renowned for its quality food, warm welcome and great ales and beers.

The Plough and Sail, owned by the Oliver family, is a traditional pub that has a history dating back more than 300 years.

It has transformed itself over the years from a meeting place for the hard working crews of more than 30 oyster smacks that were based in Paglesham - a place that was known as the smuggling capital of the district - to somewhere for locals and visitors alike to gather and enjoy delicious food and outstanding service.

The pub, which boasts real log fires, has a variety of menus including a Main Menu that includes a range of starters such as Cornish crab cocktail, breaded squid rings, Scottish smoked salmon and sliced smoked duck breast with raspberry dressing, followed by a wide variety of main courses including double lamb chop, home-made lasagne and steak and kidney pie, and tiger prawns cooked in chilli and garlic butter.

A children's menu is available and those looking for something lighter will also find a range of omelettes and salads to choose from, as well as ploughman's lunches and sandwiches.

This is all on top of a selection of home-made sweets and a Specials Menu that is updated regularly and includes delicious dishes such field mushrooms topped with caramelised onion and brie, and Moroccan style lamb kebab.

The Plough and Sail, set in beautiful Essex countryside, can also cater for a variety of functions including weddings, birthdays, anniversaries and funeral wakes. The beautiful beamed pub and pretty gardens provide a great backdrop to any event, for which staff can cater for up to 100 guests.

For further information about The Plough and Sail, in East End, Paglesham, near Rochford, or to make a reservation call 01702 258242 or visit www.thepoughandsail.co.uk

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.<sup>1</sup>

Paper is a powerful communication material and it's made from natural and renewable wood. Which is all great news if you need the impact that only printed documents can deliver.

ASK THE AGENT ALAN KIRKMAN

Alan Kirkman is a Director of both Tudor Estates in Southend and Essex TEAM part of a network of independently owned estate agents who share their instructions for the benefit of giving their client properties maximum market exposure. Alan has been an estate agent for over 32 years.

Q. We are currently looking to buy our first new home in 15 years or so, and would appreciate some guidance.

A. First, a general point. With demand for property considerably out-stripping supply at the moment, you need to do everything you can to make your status as a buyer as attractive as possible.

By that, I don't just mean offering the most money – although that's always a plus, of course, particularly at the moment! So, for example, if you are a cash buyer, then you are in the best-possible position, particularly if the vendor wants a quick sale. For the same reason, if you have another property to sell, then the first thing you need to do is put it on the market. As a buyer, it is always better to be either completely unencumbered, or at least well on the way to selling. Besides, this will also make it a lot easier to work out your available budget.

Next, house-hunting. These days, the vast majority of people conduct their initial searches via the internet. Obviously, as a buyer, it's the property that you're interested in, above all – so if you find one online that really takes your fancy, then all well and good. Otherwise, you will need to register with estate agents in your chosen area. Doing this online is pretty straightforward. But remember, they're not all the same. Even though you're a buyer rather than a seller, you still want personal service and a good working relationship.

Before registering, however, take the time to establish clearly in your own mind exactly what you're looking for – and make sure you explain those requirements fully.

When it comes to viewing properties, try to do so in the company of the agent, and always in daylight. Write a list of all the questions you want to ask the seller, and make your own notes afterwards, so you can review them at your leisure. Lastly, be patient. This is the biggest investment you will probably ever make – at least, until your next move! – so don't rush.

When you eventually find the property you want, make a formal offer through the agent. Assuming it's accepted, then the rest ought to be relatively plain sailing. Nevertheless, it's probably worth keeping your fingers crossed as well!

ask us, the award winning lettings agent .....

Landlord Question

I had a 12 month rental agreement on a property, after 3 months I could no longer afford the property as I was unable to find work there, I gave the landlord notice and agreed to pay the next two months of rent as the estate agent said that it would only take until then to find a new tenant because "this happens all the time" and told me not to worry. 2 months later I was then asked to make a further payment because they hadn't been able to find replacement tenants but again "not to worry, it will be rented out again in the new year" in January the estate agent wrote to me saying I had to continue to pay until June as he could not find a new tenant, I explained that it was fiscally impossible for me to continue paying. I heard from a house mate of mine that the estate agent had found someone to replace me and she had moved to the property in at the start of march, I then received a letter today from the estate agent threatening court action if I didn't pay for the months of January and April to August 2012, this is a total of 31 weeks equating to £2,635. Is there any advice you could give me before court proceedings as I can not afford this.

Think Property Answer

I am sorry to say that in law you are liable for the rental payment for the whole of the remaining term but until they find new tenants. As such as you have a contract you are liable for that period. However if they do find tenants during that period your obligation ceases. So while they can look for new tenants but if they cannot find any, you are responsible for the whole cost. I am sorry if this is not the answer you were looking for but based on what you have said, this is the legal position.

Honda supercars set for debut

By Mike Torpey

THE latest concept models of Honda's Civic Type R and NSX will make their first public appearance in the UK at next month's Goodwood Festival of Speed.

Both are due to hit the streets during 2015 in what will be a hectic year for the Japanese brand as it will also see the marque return to Formula 1.

Honda describes its Civic Type R concept model as a racing car for the road and it certainly looks the part with its bold, aggressive design.

The NSX, meanwhile, features a low slung, wide stance and aims to deliver a sports experience that combines supercar dynamics with advanced environmental performance.

It will be powered by a mid-mounted, direct-injected V6 engine mated to Honda's Sport Hybrid SH-AWD - Super Handling All-Wheel Drive - system which the company says will deliver handling unmatched by previous AWD systems.

Developed by a global R&D team led by designers and engineers in Los Angeles, California, the NSX will also be manufactured at a new production facility in central Ohio.

The NSX's interior package is said to boast outstanding visibility, a strong driving position, and an intuitive "Simple Sports Interface" that minimises interior clutter, allowing the driver to focus on the driving experience.

As well as getting up close with the new concepts, visitors to the Festival of Speed (June 25-29) will also get the chance to race them - with the Honda stand turned into a miniature race track for budding drivers to compete with special edition remote control models.

A live leaderboard and race footage will run on the big screen on the stand throughout the festival, with races also uploaded to a YouTube playlist.

Continuing the theme of involving visitors, Honda will also host an off-road experience offering the chance to take to two wheels on a selection of the company's latest off-road motorcycles.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motorling as physical traffic calming measures and three times more popular than the use of speed cameras.

In fact only a fifth of drivers think enforcing 20mph limits should be a police priority.

IAM chief executive Simon Best said:

"Drivers are not as negative about 20mph speed limits as many commentators would have us believe."

"Those responding to our survey found it quite easy to stick to 20 and there is large scale support for 20mph outside schools."

"However, most drivers don't want 30mph zones to be replaced with 20mph in towns. Many drivers still need to be convinced it would be a benefit."

"Re-education is also much more popular than prosecution. The total number of under 16s involved in accidents between school rush hours in the morning and afternoon is 6,106."

"Good design and widespread consultation is the key to the successful use of 20mph zones as a road safety tool because limits that match the road environment enforce themselves," he added.

Motoring News

Drivers don't want blanket 20mph limit

DRIVERS are against the idea of a blanket 20mph speed limit on urban roads.

that's the outcome of research by road safety charity the Institute of Advanced Motorists.

It reveals that half of UK drivers disagree with the proposal with less than a third willing to embrace the idea and a fifth undecided.

Male drivers are more likely to be against the idea than female.

Some 55 per cent of young drivers were against 20mph zones as a speed limit for towns while 34 per cent of older drivers were in favour.

However drivers are very supportive of lower speed limits outside schools, with 94 per cent of respondents agreeing that this would be a good idea.

Areas with high numbers of pedestrians such as parks, hospitals and shops were the next most popular and only eight per cent of respondents opted for 20mph near cycle lanes.

Using 20mph speed limit signs only to enforce lower limits was twice as popular

Recruitment

VACANCY

Yellow Advertiser Telesales Executive

The Yellow Advertiser series of newspapers, part of Tindle Newspapers has an opportunity for a bright, ambitious and enthusiastic individual to join the busy and expanding advertising sales department.

The brief is to grow and further develop the portfolio of our successful East London and Essex titles with particular emphasis on the local Trade Service markets. The successful candidate must be able to demonstrate customer focused sales ability, based on providing advertising solutions that make a real difference to clients and their businesses. Experience is preferred, but we would also like to hear from you if you feel you have the skills and aptitude to be successful in the position.

You would need to clearly be able to demonstrate an ability to react positively to customers needs and have excellent communication skills. You must also possess the drive and determination to succeed within a highly competitive market. We offer a highly competitive salary, lucrative bonus scheme and other benefits.

If you feel you have what it takes in a challenging but rewarding industry and are good enough to make a difference, please apply with a covering letter and CV to: Jan Butt, Yellow Advertiser, Acorn House, Great Oaks, Basildon, Essex SS14 1AH.
Email: janshadow@yellowad.co.uk

All applications will be treated in the strictest confidence

Remuneration package

• Basic Salary plus bonus scheme • 5 weeks holiday per year

If applicant has not had a response within 10 days of their application they will not be contacted regarding the interview stage. Previous applicants need not apply.

Newspaper Distributors Required

To deliver the Yellow Advertiser within this area.

If you have free time on Thursday and Friday and can deliver a minimum of 500 newspapers

Please email:

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A Box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

Penalty shoot-out heartbreak for Slade's team in play-off final

Leyton Orient

Leyton Orient 2
Rotherham United 2
(Rotherham win 4-3 on penalties)

League One play-off final

By Rowland Lyons at Wembley.
LEYTON ORIENT suffered penalty shoot-out heartbreak after throwing away a two-goal lead on Sunday.

Moses Odubajo and Dean Cox had put the O's in the driving seat before the break. But, Alex Revell came back to haunt his old club for the second time this season and hit a second-half double.

This winner-takes-all clash ended with Orient missing their last two spot kicks and Rotherham return to the second tier after a nine-year absence.

The O's had to withstand heavy Millers' pressure with Jamie Jones the busiest of the two keepers and did well to block long range efforts from Lee Frecklington and Kieron Agard.

With Odubajo well shepherded by Joe Skarz, the O's main threat was largely being nullified until the 35th minute when Craig Morgan tugged Kevin Lisbie's shirt and was cautioned.

From Cox's free-kick, Odubajo opened the scoring with a finish fit for a Wembley final with a sweet, 25-yard half-volley that beat a flat-footed Adam Collin down the centre of his goal.

Orient were almost in dreamland four minutes later when Cox doubled his side's lead with a simple tap-in after Odubajo had passed the ball into the danger zone.

But, the Millers weren't finished as star man Ben Pringle served warning with a fine dipping drive that skimmed the top of the Orient goal in time added-on.

Orient went for broke straight after the restart, but Lisbie and Mooney were unable to finish from good positions.

Cue the expected Rotherham fight back and they got their reward after a succession of lofted Pringle free-kicks, when his 55th minute set-piece forced Jamie Jones into a poor punch out and Revell reduced the arrears with a simple pass into an empty net.

The Millers fight back mirrored the O's first-half display as Revell equalized within four minutes with a ridiculously dipping, long range effort after Pringle had won possession on the half way line. Jones again was left red-faced as he was too far off his line and the ball bounced high into the empty net.

A shell-shocked Orient at least managed to steady the ship and looked the more dangerous after the introduction of subs, Chris Dagnall and Shaun Batt.

Predictably, the game went to extra-time and with nothing to choose between either side, this cliffhanger went to penalties. Despite hitting home their first three spot kicks, Mathieu Baudry and Dagnall both failed to leave the 20,000-strong Orient faithful stunned.

A reflective Orient boss, Russell Slade said: "It's very tough on our players. They were a little fortunate with their first goal as our keeper has pushed it onto one of our own players. But, they gave everything for the cause and I am very proud of my players."

Baudry admitted: "Everyone is

really sad as we gave everything. I think we are unlucky to be on the losing side. We knew what they were about at set-pieces and it was disappointing that they got the first one [goal] and then we had ten minutes where we weren't at the level we have been for most of the season."

Goalscorer Cox added: "Revell's goal was a fantastic strike, but perhaps we invited the pressure a bit. We worked hard in extra-time and then penalties is anyone's game. It's devastating. It's probably best to go on holiday as the game is going to be all over Sky Sports - the only way is to get out of the country!"

LEYTON ORIENT: Jamie Jones - Scott Cuthbert, Mathieu Baudry, Nathan Clarke (captain), Elliot Omozusi, Moses Odubajo, Romain Vincelot, Lloyd James (John Lundstram 90), Dean Cox (Shaun Batt 74), Kevin Lisbie (Chris Dagnall 76), David Mooney. Subs (not used): Jake Larkins (gk), Marvin Bartley, Gary Sawyer, Robbie Simpson.

Barking boys slam dunk into finals

Basketball

BARKING & Dagenham boys earned their place at the Balfour Beatty London Youth Games basketball finals after a sensational weekend's qualifiers at the University of East London Sportsdock.

The under 18s competition is a breeding ground for British talent and was where NBA All-Star Luol Deng and Team GB women's internationals Temi Fagbenle and Azania Stewart first made their mark in the game.

Barking & Dagenham clinched a final's place alongside Newham, Ealing and Lambeth at the National Sports Centre, Crystal Palace on July 5.

Barking & Dagenham caused the major upset of the day, knocking out top seeds Southwark in an enthralling quarter-final which saw Bruno Sardinha slam dunk a basket with just 10 seconds left to steal victory 16-14.

The finals will be one of the show-piece events during the Balfour Beatty London Youth Games finals weekend on July 5-6 with around 10,000 young Londoners competing in 19 sports at the climax of Europe's largest annual youth sports event.

At the weekend's culmination, the Jubilee Trophy will be awarded to the overall winning borough as champions of London.

Former London Youth Games competitors include double Olympic champion Mo Farah, Tour de France winner Bradley Wiggins, Paralympic champion David Weir and former England and Manchester United footballer Rio Ferdinand.

Barking & Dagenham boys coach, Marlan Henry, said: "I feel as if I'm about to have a heart attack. It was a very close game throughout. We were down by a couple of points throughout the whole game.

"We got a big steal in the final seconds and got a big rebound and ended up winning the game. I'm extremely proud, extremely proud.

"It's very emotional, very emotional. We've got to keep it up, go to practice, go practice work on some stuff, change some stuff up. Hopefully we'll come out, get to the final and our main goal is to win the whole thing."

Redbacks record first win

Baseball

EssexRedbacks II 19 Old Timers (Enfield) 9

ON Sunday, the Redbacks Baseball & Softball second team recorded their first win of the 2014 season in the first game using the new permanent backstops constructed at the club's Melbourne Park ground in Chelmsford.

Making up the rearranged fixture against Old Timers from earlier in the season, Neil Hall's men ran out convincing winners behind the pitching of Dan Straw who threw all nine innings in another great performance on the mound.

With the bat, Tom Aubrey led by example, scoring three times, while C J Evans and Rob Yuille combined for seven runs on six hits as the top of the order did the business.

The Old Timers struck first, scoring twice in the first frame, to keep the Redbacks off the diamond until the third inning. But after three runs in third, the hosts exploded for eight in the fourth inning, giving them an advantage that meant they never had to look back.

Five runs in the eighth was the final nail in the coffin for the Old Timers, who were within touching distance until then, and Straw closed out the Redbacks' first win of the season in their fourth game of the year.

Manager Neil Hall said: "This was the performance we know we were due for the last few weeks. We were almost perfect in the field, and that has clearly made a difference in the outcome of the match."

Dan was excellent again on the mound, with great support from the batters, and I believe that this can be the catalyst for us to go on and repeat our success more regularly in the coming months."

Football

Down but not out

Non-league round up by Brian Jeeves
RELEGATED White Ensign completed their ProKit UK Essex Olympian Premier League campaign with a 2-1 midweek success over Rayleigh Town. Town included legendary former Millwall and Southend United striker Neil Harris in their line-up. Nevertheless, Ensign have shown tremendous spirit during the second half of the season, and they were not to be denied a notable victory. A crowd approaching three figures witnessed Hamid Zamani and a Gilbert own goal earned Ensign the points, Ross Webster grabbed a consolation for Town.

There were plenty of goals in the Premier Division on Saturday afternoon. Rayleigh Town made up for their midweek disappointment by beating Buckhurst Hill 3-2, and it was the same outcome as Kelvedon Hatch saw off Bishop Stortford Swifts. Elsewhere, Wadham Lodge were the big winners of the day, hammering Newbury Forest by three goals to nil.

In Senior Division Three, Southend based Catholic United completed a satisfactory season with a 3-1 success over bottom of the table Leytonstone United. Despite putting up a spirited display, this has been a difficult term for the East Londoners who will look for improvement next season after finishing bottom of the table with just two points.

Cricket

Essex sign bowler Moore

ESSEX have signed young bowler, Thomas Moore.

Moore, 22, is a right-arm medium-fast bowler who plays club cricket with Brentwood and has been a regular member of the Essex Second XI side in recent seasons. He has also represented the county at age group level.

■ ESSEX entertain Surrey in the LV= County Championship commencing on Sunday at The Essex County Ground and is part of the City of Chelmsford Cricket Festival, sponsored by Birketts.
